SOUTH WINDSOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Oh Ellsworth, Mighty Forger of minds and character, they say your reign is o'er.
Cut down by the sickle of progress,
your demise is momentary.
Do not weep soldier of scholasticism,
for men do not judge on death alone,
but on how one has transacted his affairs of life.
In this moment of tribulation be proud that you have begot champions in the cause of human dignity and freedom.
Feel satisfied that you have incited the young to survey far-horizons.
Smile in the reflection that you have not only produced champions on the court and in the field
but also men unafraid to challenge the machinations of life.
Alas! You harp that you are not worthy of such extollment.
You say the centurions of your guard should gleam in the glory of your achievements.
You mention a Magneson, Woodmansee, Stoughton, Greer
as initiators of your fame.
You wish a special thanks to a wary sentinel, Adams,
from whose breath you have drawn life.
Ellsworth, you gasp that time is short and faithful servants must hear your gratitude.
You say: "Give an Ordway, Bond, Kish, Tapley, Kibbe, Duffy,
Cass, Olsen thanks for rendering their lives to your service.
Oh Ellsworth, people will say it is a shame for a warrior of two decades and a half to expire.
But in this moment of languish, do not feel physical interment is the total death.
Feel not remorse, but rather this:

YOUR QUARTER CENTURY OF LIFE WILL SERVE A CENTURY OF MANKIND.

YOUR QUARTER CENTURY OF PROGRESS WILL SERVE

Your achievement deserves applause and we are very pleased to extend it.

As you grow older many more achievements will be yours. Perhaps the greatest of them will be aided by Savings — marriage, homes, and your children's education.

Remember to save a portion of your earnings each pay day. Begin while you are young — you will never have cause to regret saving.
